Epiphany

We spent the season of Epiphany considering the good news of the light of Christ as revealed in some of the initial acts of Jesus' ministry. We saw there that the promise of the Kingdom is not just for the future but also for the present. In the brief season between Epiphany and Lent, we will spend some time considering the inverse: the long-term, future hope in which we place our eternal trust. What is our eternal hope? More importantly, how does that future hope inform and shape the way we live now?

"Some say the world will end in fire, / some say in ice. / From what I've tasted of desire / I hold with those who favor fire. / But if it had to perish twice, / I think I know enough of hate / To say that for destruction ice / Is also great / And would suffice."

-Robert Frost

"It's the end of the world as we know it, and I feel fine."

Collect

Almighty and everlasting God, you govern all things both in heaven and on earth: Mercifully hear the supplications of your people, and in our time grant us your peace; through Jesus Christ our Lord, who lives and reigns with you and the Holy Spirit, one God, for ever and ever. Amen.

God Gathers Us for Worship

Prelude: "I See the Lord" (congregation joins when invited)

I see the Lord seated on the throne exalted, and the train of his robe fills the temple with glory;
and the whole earth is filled, and the whole earth is filled,
and the whole earth is filled with his glory.
Holy, holy, holy, holy, holy is the Lord.
Holy, holy, holy, holy, holy is the Lord of lords.
